How fast does your crew really go?

I painted exteriors in Wisconsin for ten years. Now I'm building an estimating app for exterior jobs, and I want its numbers to come from real painters, not guesses.

Rough numbers are fine. A range like "150–200" beats a blank. Skip anything you don't know. Nothing to buy.

Scan to do it on your phone

backrollapp.com/rates

1. Fill in what you know
Both sides of this sheet. Numbers are for one painter, normal pace.

2. Leave it at the counter
I pick these up every week.

3. Or scan the code
Same questions online. Saves as you go.

Name _____ Town you work in _____ Company _____ Years painting exteriors _____

BODY (SIDING)

Square feet of wall per hour, one painter.

	1ST COAT	2ND COAT
Spray + backroll	_____	_____	sq ft/hr
Brush + roll	_____	_____	sq ft/hr

SIDING TYPE

How much slower than plain lap siding?

Cedar shake	_____	% slower
Board & batten	_____	% slower
Stucco	_____	% slower
Brick / masonry	_____	% slower

CONDITION

About how much of the wall needs scraping?

Some failing paint	_____	% of wall
Peeling in areas	_____	% of wall
Peeling everywhere	_____	% of wall

PREP

Power wash	_____	sq ft/hr	Prime, brush/roll	_____	sq ft/hr
Scrape + sand (peeling area only)	_____	sq ft/hr	Caulk	_____	lin ft/hr

backroll

HEIGHT AND ACCESS

How much slower than working from the ground?

2nd story		% slower	Walk board / roof		% slower
3rd story		% slower	Lift		% slower
Extension ladder		% slower	Lift rental		$ per day

Set-up time per side of the house:

Ladders		hours
Walk boards		hours	Lift		hours

TRIM

	1ST COAT	2ND COAT
Window			minutes each
Door			minutes each
Garage door			minutes each
Fascia & soffit			lin ft/hr

MONEY

Painter pay		$ per hour
Payroll taxes + comp on top		%
Overhead per crew hour (truck, insurance)		$
Profit you aim for		% of price

MATERIALS

Body paint		$ per gal
Primer		$ per gal
Real coverage		sq ft/gal
Extra paint lost spraying		%
Sundries per crew hour		$

WHERE DO EXTERIOR BIDS USUALLY GO WRONG FOR YOU?

Thank you. Leave this at the counter, or scan the code on the front to send it online. Every number goes into making exterior estimates more accurate for painters like you.

Your name and company stay private. Only combined numbers are ever shared.